Who is RAINBOW-NAC?

RAINBOW-NAC is a non-profit organization with gay, lesbian, bisexual, intersexual and transgender Christians as members and it is part of the New Apostolic Church. People of different faith, family members, friends and supporters are also members of the group. Founded in 1999 as a private initiative, RAINBOW-NAC changed into a legal association in Germany in 2018.

The initiative exists in Europe, North and South America and South Africa and has hundreds of active members and supporters worldwide.

A parental support initiative within RAINBOW-NAC offers information and advice for parents since 2012.

What are our goals?

RAINBOW-NAC's goals and activities can be seen in our commitment to society and dedication to Christian basic values und their fulfillment within the New Apostolic faith. Our organization would like to support and encourage the community of believers actively by trying to ensure that...

- lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersexual members of the New Apostolic Church can live their faith without being discriminated against.
- the love between two people of the same sex has the same status as the love between men and women.
- same-sex marriages have access to a Trinitarian blessing.
- LGBTI* members of the church as well as their families receive competent and individual pastoral care.
- LGBTI* members of the church and those living with a transsexual past can become ordained ministers in the New Apostolic Church.
