

CiderWorld'20 Award

The CiderWorld Medals 2020 have been awarded. Since Friday, 10 July 2020, it has been official who has won the coveted trophies at the CiderWorld'20 Award.

The CiderWorld Medals 2020 awards ceremony was held online for the first time this year due to restrictions imposed by Covid-19. For this purpose, a virtual award ceremony was staged for the first time in cooperation with the Astor Film Lounge in Frankfurt and the Frankfurt am Main Economic Development Agency. Patron Markus Frank, Head of the Department of Economics of the City of Frankfurt am Main, handed over the certificates virtually together with Frankfurt's Queen of Cider Larissa I.

How the CiderWorld Award works

The CiderWorld Award was held for the third time this year. In cooperation with the Geisenheim University of Applied Sciences, this competition is held annually. The aim of the award is, on the one hand, to professionalize the cider scene, which is in part quite young. On the other hand, this competition wants to draw the attention of retailers and consumers to the high quality in this beverage segment.

The submitted products are analyzed in the Institute for Beverage Research at the Geisenheim University of Applied Sciences. They will be tasted by an internationally expert jury and evaluated according to the CiderWorld-120-point scheme. The approximately 160 products from all over Europe were evaluated in five categories

CiderWorld'20 Online

Frankfurt Cider Fair 13. – 30. August 2020 for the first time in online format

Due to the restrictions imposed by Covid-19, the CiderWorld '20 Frankfurt Cider Fair had to be postponed until 2021. The good news for all visitors and exhibitors of the fair: The CiderWorld team has developed an online version for 2020.

The approximately 80 exhibitors and their products will be presented in 13 online tastings distributed from 13 to 30 August 2020. Visitors will be able to choose from various trial packages, each containing six products. You can have these packages delivered to your home and take part in the online tastings at home with relatives and friends and get questions about the winery and the product answered in the chat.

The trial packages are available from 20 July 2020 on www.cider-world.com
